Island just south of the reservoir, 26 miles northwest of Hsinchuang.

But Communist resistance mounted in one northeast sector.

A U.S. 7th Division combat patrol north of Pungung reported it was under attack "by a hell of a lot of North Koreans."

The patrol was on the north bank of the Ungui River. Carrier-borne marine Canada five in to give air support.

REDS WITHDRAW

Further east, however, Red Korean troops and five tanks were reported withdrawing northward from Mungchong, next goal of the South Korean Capital division, moving toward the Siberian border. The South Koreans last were reported six miles south of Mungchong.

In the Pukhan area advance, Australian units on the left flank met the only notable resistance when they routed 100 Red soldiers.

Allied warplanes began burning all villages to flush out Chinese Red soldiers.

U.S. Cavalry Division troops reported they had seen Chinese groups change into civilian clothing and roll around in hillsides during the day while allied planes buzzed overhead.

REVERSIBLE SUITS

Communist cloth with reversible uniforms were found in the Anju-Kum area. The uniforms were grey-green on one side, civilian white on the other.

Allied officers were perplexed at the Chinese withdrawal in an area where they had forced UN troops back as much as 50 miles. They speculated the Chinese either were regrouping for a large-scale attack or were deploying new lines.

In the latter event, officers said, it was possible the Chinese only intended to hold a buffer area guarding the Yalu River hydro-electric power grid, vital to Manchurian industry.

U.S. Plans To Move Gingly

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The United States, stepping gingerly in the Korean situation, has reported today to favor a simple demand by the United Nations Security Council that the Chinese Communists cease their aid to North Korea.

Informal officials said a reporter this contemplated course would not include any charge of aggression and would not irreversibly link the Chinese Red forces now are opposing the UN troops.

4 Mayors Fired As Communists

PARIS, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Four mayors and 28 assistant mayors of Paris districts were fired yesterday as Communists. The latter ministry said they had been replaced by persons "not active in political parties."

The city of Paris is divided in 20 districts. Each has a mayor and assistants appointed by the latter ministry.

Freak Mishap Fatal

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Mrs. Dollie Baker, 56, died of injuries suffered yesterday when her waiting car caught in a washing machine.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur officials advised the UN yesterday these and would not irreversibly link the Chinese Red forces now are opposing the UN troops.

Europe Defence Talks Due for Two Ministers

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—(CP)—Two Canadian defence ministers will be on the move to Europe soon to "in the efforts to hurdle the big obstacle to Western European defence—the question of returning Western Germany."

Defence Minister Cattanach will go to London towards the end of this month for a meeting with other Atlantic Pact defence ministers who will consider reports of subordination, now wrestling with the problem.

The root of it is French resistance to a majority plan for rearming the Germans and integrating them in a joint force to stand against Soviet pressure.

The defence ministers will report to the past foreign ministers who are expected to meet in Brussels in mid-December. External Affairs Minister Pearson will represent Canada there.

SAIGON, Indo-China, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Lobbying's feeling garbled has pushed 20 miles in its south-western dash for safety, but reports the loss of its reconnaissance plane, a French spokesman declined to say.

The French garbled is being harassed by Communist Vietminh and faces the danger of incursion by strong enemy units may cross the Red River from the east.

The spokesman announced the Communist evacuation of a chain of small defence posts in the foothills around Hoabinh, 30 miles southwest of Hanoi.

He said the entire French force in that area has passed safely through the hills and reached French lines on the flatlands of the Red River delta.

Doctor Kills 2 For Blackmail

MUNICH, Ind., Nov. 7.—(AP)—A prominent physician told police last night he shot two men to death because they had blackmailed him.

Police said Dr. Jules F. La Duron admitted he shot the men last night after a fight over a demand for $750.

Siebert Louis Carter, 37, a cab driver from Terre Haute, Ind., was killed in the struggle in Dr. La Duron's office. His brother Ralph Winfield Carter, 35, a Terre Haute welder, died in hospital later.

Dr. La Duron told a reporter the brothers had been blackmailing him since his first wife disappeared 13 years ago.

In a grand jury investigation following the woman's disappearance in 1937, Dr. La Duron said he left after they had quarreled. He married two years ago.

Third Battalion PPCLI Suggested

Historic 'Princess Pats' May Get Replacement Unit

By Dick Brome
Special to The Bulletin
OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—(BUP)—A third battalion of the historic "Princess Pats" regiment of Alberta may be formed to replace the one destined for Korea and give Canada a full brigade for service elsewhere, senior defence sources said today.

The second battalion of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry is scheduled to move to Korea in force, embarking before the end of this month.

This will leave two battalions behind to train at Ft. Lewis, Wash. They are the second battalion Royal 22nd Regiment and second battalion Royal Canadian Regiment.

FULL STRENGTH
Formation of the third battalion of the Princess Pats would bring the main force up to full strength as a battle brigade of 11,000 men.

Each of the battalions at present in the active force is a duplicate of the first battalions of regiments in the regular army's mobile brigade organized for the defence of Canada against invasion across the Arctic.

Men for the new battalion, if it is formed, probably will be drawn from the present pool of reinforcements for the special brigade. The reinforcement group already has strength about equivalent to a brigade in itself, less supporting troops.

Defence sources explained that final decision on whether the third Princess Pats battalion would be formed, would rest with developments in the Korean war. If it appears likely that the whole force should be sent to Korea, the newly conceived plan may not be put into effect.

If, however, the Korean war should end soon, and only a battalion of Canadian troops is needed there for occupation purposes, the additional battalion probably will be organized for service with the full battle brigade elsewhere.

TO EVERY VETERAN OF WORLD WAR II

What YOU should know about
Veterans Insurance

Re: Veterans Insurance—
Your Right to Apply Has a
Time Limit

Who is Eligible?

Any man or woman who has been discharged after service in the Canadian naval, military or air forces during World War II.

Any man or woman who has been discharged after service in the naval, military or air forces of His Majesty during World War II who was living in Canada at the commencement of such service.

The widow or widower of a veteran as above, if the veteran was not insured under the act. Certain classes of Merchant Seamen. Members of the Corps of (Civilian) Canadian Fire Fighters and Auxiliary Services Supervisors, with service overseas.

Is There A Medical Examination?

No—except in a very few special cases. Consequently, Veterans Insurance is of particular value to those who cannot meet the requirements of a commercial insurance company.

How Much Does It Cost?

Rates are comparable with the lowest for similar policies with commercial companies. PREMIUMS MAY BE PAID FROM RE-ESTABLISHMENT CREDITS OR FROM PENSION.

The policy has cash value after two years.

What Kind of Insurance is Available?

There are a variety of plans from ten payment life up to life paid up $5. Insurance is obtainable in multiples of $500 up to a maximum of $10,000.

The Veterans Insurance Act put time-limits upon the right of the Department to accept applications for this insurance. Extension of these time-limits was discussed at the last session of Parliament, and may come before the House again next year. But as the law stands today, the time-limits remain as follows:

If you were discharged before February 20, 1945, your application for insurance must be approved before February 20, 1951.

If you were discharged after February 20, 1945, your application must be approved within six years of the date of your discharge.

If you are interested in Veterans Insurance, we suggest, therefore, that to be on the safe side you get in touch with the nearest district office of the Department of Veterans Affairs as soon as possible. A trained counsellor is on hand at every office to assist you with your insurance problems. If it is more convenient for you, write directly to the Superintendent of Veterans Insurance, Department of Veterans Affairs, Ottawa.

How China's In It

As The Edmonton Bulletin forecast in blunt terms five weeks ago, Red China has climbed into the Far East war and has created the most dangerous threat to world peace yet to arise from the Communist campaign of aggression.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur has defined the danger points with great care. In plain language they are these:

1. It will be next to impossible to stem Red Chinese aggression in Korea without bombing the Chinese source of supply and reinforcements within China territory. It would be a hopeless and costly job to meet these waves of Chinese aggression on Korean soil alone.

2. Red China has a 30-year military alliance with the Soviet Union. Therefore, any attack on Chinese territory might be aided as an excuse for Russia to move directly into the struggle.

3. The democratic majority in the United Nations must make up its mind whether it will strike boldly at the source of this intervention and risk Russian interference or whether it will content itself with a prolonged and exhausting and not very decisive series of engagements exclusively on Korean soil.

It must be admitted that the overall situation is infinitely more delicate than it has been in the past three years.

The delicacy of these circumstances is intensified by the vague position of other Asiatic powers.

Rivals But Good Neighbors

The show put on by Calgary at the football game last Saturday night was a wonderful exhibition of sportsmanship.

It was an admirable piece of provincial patriotism.

It was the warming act of a good neighbor.

The Calgarys came up here in a motor cavalcade of more than 200 cars. They paraded at half time with banners and cap guns and hobby homes and, of course, with ten-gallon hats.

And they rooted for Edmonton with everything that was in them.

Now Calgarys have an intense local patriotism. The tradition and support they

Renfrew Grandstand To Be Built

The city council is to be commended for losing no time in formulating a method whereby the concrete grandstand at Renfrew Park can be built to replace the old one destroyed by fire.

The council gives John Ducey a new lease, a rental of only $1 per year for the first five years and the $10,000 insurance money and Mr. Ducey must erect the grandstand which, of course, will be the property of the city since it is on city-owned land.

It is a neat, legal and entirely admirable method of evading the adverse vote against the money bylaw to build this Should outright war with China ensue, it would be appalling easy for Asiatic representatives of Russia to convince other Asiatic countries that the struggle has been transferred from an open split between Orient and Occident.

It is difficult to know just what intentions Communism could have in India, for instance, and just how ready India would swallow the bait.

India is not temperamentally communitarian. But like so many other half-educated Asiatic nations, India has economic problems that are obviously insoluble through its own means.

India has continued to grumble about imperialism while India's real problem is that Indians are very poor because they insist on having too many children and then want higher standards of living than they or their ancestors have ever known.

With an annual trade deficit of $800,000,000 and a population with an average life duration of less than 30 years because of its disease, India is spending almost 50 percent of this year's budget on an army and air force.

India, like other Oriental nations, is plainly incapable. And it is impossible to know just how much the lotus dreams peddled by Russia may appeal to them.

If China Communist dreams do apply, it is not difficult to conceive of a general Oriental uprising signalled by the outbreak of open warfare against China.

accord their own teams is something to see.

Moreover, the rivalry between Edmonton and Calgary has always been more intense than you will find anywhere else in the country and, perhaps, between Toronto and Hamilton.

It must have cost these Calgary sportsmen something to get out and cheer for the team that contributes to the position of their own club at the bottom of the heap.

When a city can do such a thing, it has, at least, the elements of greatness. Calgary people evidently know a great deal about that admirable thing — sport for sport's sake.

Cruel

Sportsmen

Editor, Bulletin—Having a reader of your valuable paper I note from an article of Oct. 26, 1950, that apparently some from Big River, Sask., in which it describes a hunter having a close shave with a moose last year and had shot the mother bear's three cubs.

It would appear that this man youth who you have so harshly called a sportsman, armed himself after murdering bears in the district and encountered in his search three small cubs which he popped off with four of his five shells which was a very easy matter for anyone to do this case, due to the fact that the cubs were defenceless and were unable to fight back.

The mother bear appears on the scene at this moment all set and prepared to fight for her cubs, as any animal would do in a case of this kind, the last shell is fired on the mother bear wounding the animal and then is left to suffer all the pain it can endure due to this man's poor manhood.

It ever there was a case of cruelty I would not like to see with Section 542 of the Criminal Code covers this fully close whereby this man could be prosecuted under this section which gives the protection of all animals whether they are wild or in captivity or otherwise.

The experienced sportsman and hunter would have known from the start that when he encountered

Most of our inventive is wild, meaningless and totally without application.

For instance, one of our more crushing terms of contempt in these days relates to the suggestion, usually quite unfounded, that the ecclesiastical authorities had thoughtlessly neglected to add the marriage laws to the canon of the object of the attack.

It has never been able to discover that this charge, ever true, reduced the mental or moral capacity of the individual under discussion.

If my recollection is sound, this ecclesiastical omission occurred in the case of William the Conqueror and even a comparatively recent British prime minister.

Both, as I remember, did pretty well for themselves, in spite of it.

Biological

Asperation

Another term of calumny, widely used by these degenerate days, is one that alleges the calumny is the product of a type of maniacation utterly unknown to the most meticulous research of biologists.

One can only wonder at this loose and careless talking.

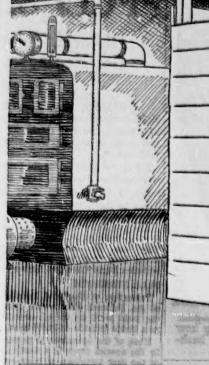

For while science can split the atom, it cannot possibly produce one of those things that one would judge, from current conversation, to be found upon every street corner.

The practice of asperation and asperation has led to a lamentably low estate.

In this respect, we have drifted away happily from the usual and meaningful standards of our fathers.

Letters to the Editor

ed three cubs playing around by themselves that the mother bear was somewhere close at hand and probably would have taken the chance in shooting down the animal's cub in this case; also instinct would have warned him to watch out for the mother bear.

The experienced hunter shoots to kill and not to maim and wound and then leave the animal to suffer as it would appear in this case.

I have had numerous reports in connection with this man's actions and I am sorry to say that the case is entirely out of our jurisdiction due to the fact that the offense took place in Saskatchewan.

I would conclude with the suggestion that this man conceive himself with some principles and ideas of some of the game hunters and by doing this he will be able to gain a good deal of knowledge on how to shoot about after murdering bears and any other wild animal for that matter.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space.

Drinking, Eating

In New Orleans

This old and busy port, thickly built on a crescent of the muddy Mississippi, has a rare personal touch. Part old-world charm, part new.

The old French quarter, the Vieux Carre — is the city's No. 1 attraction. This is headquarters for New Orleans' famous life, tucked in a solid Dixie beat.

By daylight it's a shimmering place with a quiet charm. Buildings of faded elegance line, shrill pink and blue awnings, with beautifully wrought iron balconies face on the narrow streets.

Writers and artists and other bums hang out here and it's an interesting experience to relax under a canopy at one of the coffee houses and watch the passing show.

There are on view a number of eccentricities, including one ruggish fellow in the form of a terror of the Mississippi. Always wears an immense life-jacket.

Bohemians and Coffee

Also of course, the usual number of creative-type Bohemians on display. I picked up a copy of the French Quarter News which contains some of the work of this group. One entitled "The complete was a..."

"A broken strainer suspended in pulse-moment gaze a ghastly wait. Its shadow phantoms into an illusion of dimensions, but there is only that ghastly wait. And as said into a crevice."

How's that? We had coffee and piping hot French Quarter News which are covered with being sugar, in the Cafe Du Monde, one of the original French market coffee stands. When the waiter brings your order you must clamp a hand over the doughnuts or they will float away. The coffee itself is strictly chicory.

Orleanians say of it: Black as night Sweet as love Hot as hell And if it don't stain the cup it was not made.

Might mention here that there's

Supporter

Editor, Bulletin—The Deweller "Miracle Mile" agreement has been voted down by 744 Edmonton citizens, the latter word (and loudly) a group of people who have little or no faith in the future of our city.

I write to the Bulletin this week termed Edmonton a city of the living dead. He wasn't far from the truth.

At least we can put 744 in this case, including three elected aldermen, one advertising man who dined out saloons of ink for the so-called taxpayers Protective Association, and the long since starved Edmonton Journal, a newspaper that should be kept for the sake of the city.

Defence Costs vs. Fighting Strength

The London Observer recently put its finger on the weakest feature of the western nations' armament plans.

Britain has 376,000 men in army uniform, but only four army divisions.

Russia has 2,800,000 men in army uniform, with 175 divisions.

It's not hard to see that Britain is in a bad way.

Even before the recent big boost in Canadian armaments, we were spending about $425 million per year.

That is, in 1950 Canada's war preparation budget was just about as big as the total expenditures, for all purposes, back when Mr. Bennett was prime minister.

Fewer Men For Fighting

When the Korean war broke out, the British army was ready for action; and that was especially true and equipped to repel attacks from the north.

How come we are spending so much more and getting so much less in quickly available troops?

The main reason is that we are spending so much more on the air force and navy. But our whole defense plan is based on the theory that a third world war would be fought from the air.

And that Canada would have time to mobilize a five or six division force over a period of two or three years.

Courts Must Co-operate As Well

There is not much sense in the city police warning teen age mobsters that they are going to clean them up when the police magistrate can co-operate with no better than a 30-day sentence against one of the major offenders.

Teen age gangs will not be tolerated in Edmonton.

It is no less than disgraceful that some of the teen age gangs have caused so much disorder and disturbance that some of

Need To Be Classified

One of the things that happened to me during the last few days of my life was the rather civil imbroglio was the rather profound discovery that this generation has fallen very far in the matter of decency.

As stereotyped and unimaginative as they may have become our terms of opprobrium that in most cases are no longer referring to the person in the picture.

Canadian Refineries Boost Oil Output

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—(CP)—Canadian oil refineries boosted their output by 14 per cent in the first six months of this year, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Although the refineries received more crude oil from domestic sources than they did a year ago, they also imported more from other countries.

Crude imports totalled 26,000, 828 barrels compared with 26,082, 587 in the first six months of 1948. The United States supplied 12,000, 300 barrels, compared with 12,792,000 a year ago. Venezuela supplied 13,000,000 barrels compared with 12,000,000.

There was a sharp jump in supplies from Arabia. They rose to 17,920,000 barrels from 3,118,500. Imports from Trinidad dropped to 573,000 from 1,113,000.

The receipts of crude oil from domestic sources advanced to 12,340,700 barrels from 9,270,000.

Production of refined products totalled 45,819,336 barrels compared with 40,107,962 in the first six months of 1947.

Motor gasoline output was up 10 per cent.

WOUNDED MARINE, receiving a plasma transfusion, calmly reads a letter from home as a first aid man works over him on the Korean front.

Truman Lashes Out At Red Imperialism

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Nov. 7.—(AP)—President Truman voiced to the world yesterday the firm conviction that the free nations inevitably will prevail against the tyranny of "Communist imperialism."

He spoke from the portico of the Memorial auditorium to thousands of fellow townsmen gathered in the street. In this same building today he will voice "the straight Democratic ticket" before flying back to Washington.

He spoke against the backdrop of a worsening situation in Korea brought on by the movement into that country of Chinese troops from Manchuria. Before the address he had a long-distance telephone conference with State Secretary Dean Acheson.

"The leaders of Communist imperialism have chosen to follow the path of aggression," Truman said, "through threats and through the use of force, they are seeking to impose their will upon peoples all over the world."

"So long as they persist in that course, the free nations have one choice if they are to remain free. They must oppose strength with strength."

The president, dedicating a Liberty Bell presented to Independence by the people of Annapolis, France, assured his townspeople:

"The fellowship of freedom is growing. It stands firm against the false prophets of Communism, who represent not brotherhood, but disintegrating and progress, but reaction."

Earlier, Truman said a luncheon meeting the U.S. never again will "run out on its responsibilities for preservation of world peace as it did after the first World War."

Hong Kong today is considering the possibilities of a repeat performance—this time Communist in the role of the conqueror.

From a military viewpoint, there appears little to be hopeful about. Military authorities never have tried to hide the fact that the colony today is as undefensible as it was nine years ago.

Its skeleton navy base is depleted by the transfer of ships to Korea. Its army has only 30,000 men, and only 1,000 of these are combat troops. Its air force is home-ship with only one jet plane.

NO TROOPS YET
Military planners seem to be banking on the same strategy used in 1941—delaying action to carry out a quick evacuation, then a quick pullout of all armed service units for transfer to other Far Eastern points where they probably could be more useful.

Best military information is that there are practically no concentrations of Chinese Communist forces in the South China Sea area, bordering Hong Kong. But massing of such concentrations from reserves in mainland and southwest China could probably be effected within five days.

Some observers estimate that 300,000 Red China troops could overrun the colony in three days or less.

MAY HAVE CURE Funds Send Cripple To Coast Hospital

RED DEER, Nov. 7.—Twenty-two-year-old Laure, Woodrow of the Red Deer district started this week on a trip to the west coast which she hopes will result in her recovery from paralysis and send her home able to walk. She has been crippled since contracting poliomyelitis in 1945.

Plane fare and funds for the necessary treatment were raised by voluntary subscription of $300 during the past three months. Started by the Clearview Women's Institute of which Miss Woodrow is a member, the polo fund was quickly adopted by all other branches of the WI in the Red Deer constituency. A host of friends and relatives, anxious in the recovery, responded and the fund swelled rapidly.

A smart looking young lady with long fair hair, Miss Woodrow has allowed her disability to handicap her very little. She gets about to meetings and a visit to her home. From her wheelchair she directs the management of the family farm home and most of the ground floor tasks are done by her. Not only does she cook and clean from her wheelchair, but she mastered the typewriter and made practically all of her attractive clothes. Sewing and mending for the rest of the family is another of her chores.

Her husband pre-deceased her about eight years ago. Funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

Mr. Hutchinson is well qualified to speak to rural people, as he was raised on an Alberta farm and just this summer he attended a special course on rural work at the Garrett Bible Institute, Evanston, Ill. Rev. A. J. Norquay, incumbent minister on the Mayrorthorpe charge, was host to Mr. Hutchinson and conducted the Sunday services.

Canadian Tars Get Muller Role

UN Landing at Wonsan
Described By Navy Men

A JAPANESE NAVAL BASE, Nov. 7.—(CP)—Canadian destroyers, after engaging in bombardments and other actions, have reverted to more routine roles with the United Nations forces in the Korean theatre.

Two of the three destroyers—Cayuga and Albatross—have returned to port after long periods at sea, with little excitement to report.

The third vessel, Sioux, was still at sea with commonwealth units off the west coast of Korea. The Canadian ships' most recent tour of duty consisted largely in patrols and routine screening of larger fleet units.

The Albatross worked with a bombardment group of 37 UN ships, largest naval force to operate on the east coast since the start of the Korean war.

The Albatross was off Wonsan during the unopposed landing of 10th Corps elements Oct. 25.

There were landing ships as far as the eye could see," said commissioned officer David Hunt of Winnipeg. "At 3 p.m. they approached in single file and entered the swept channel into the harbor. They went by us at intervals of four minutes, and it wasn't until 11 o'clock that night that the last one passed."

Commissioned officer Robert Paul of Big Valley, Alta., gunnery officer on the Albatross, said the experience with the big fleet gave "a excellent opportunity for us to obtain large-scale fleet training in various aspects of naval warfare. The experience was invaluable."

Though Albatross was 23 days at sea, her men did not go without mail from home.

Petty Officer Alvin Pilon of Melville, Sask., explained that a helicopter from a United States air carrier delivered the mail by dropping several bags on the destroyer's forecastle.

Occasionally, the Albatross acted as a courier ship for the fleet, and on Oct. 21 she carried Vice-Admiral Dewey Struble, U.S. commander of the fleet, on an inspection trip into the inner harbor of Wonsan.

During her term with the fleet, Cayuga and Sioux, meanwhile, were on the west coast with British and Australian units, mostly engaged in screening Royal Navy seven U.S. supply ships carrying food and clothing to Haeju for the United Nations.

The Cayuga escorted a fleet of UN land forces.

BRIDGE Even The Experts Forget About Bids

By Oswald Jacoby

At least once a year I come out in print with the statement that the average player forgets all about the bidding as soon as the play begins. Just in case that average player thinks I'm picking on him, I'm happy to report that experts are sometimes just as bad. For example, here's a hand in which two experts forgot the bidding.

East's bid of three no-trump was, of course, the old mullerkey. If spades were led, he could expect to take a spade, six diamonds unless he were very unlucky, and then maybe whatever happened to be lying around loose.

If hearts were led, East might not do so well at three no-trump—particularly if North won and returned a club. East couldn't tell that his partner had stoppers in hearts or clubs.

In spite of the danger, East was willing to play three no-trump. If he couldn't make it, the chances were that South had a game at

Boudreau May Stay

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 7.—(UPI)—Lou Boudreau will continue 19 seasons the Cleveland Indians in 1981, but with a reduction in pay, all indications said today.

Announcement of Boudreau's retention probably will come within the next 10 days, President Ryan said he intends to bring Boudreau here from his Harvey, Ill. home for a conference "within the next two or three days."

Boudreau, it was understood, will be offered a one-year contract calling for a salary slash from the estimated $700,000 he made this year.

At his home, the 35-year-old player said he had not heard about his new status yet.

"They're probably discussing the matter now," he said, referring to Ryan and general manager Hank Greenberg.

"I can't say anything until I hear from them and discuss the matter with them," he added. "I don't have any plans in mind for improving the club and I can't wait until I talk to them."

Greenberg, however, said he had plans for strengthening the Indians and such plans include bolstering the defense, adding a left-handed pitcher and improving the right pitcher corps.

The Cleveland general manager said he has been shopping around eastern clubs in an attempt to find a hurler such as Lou Boudreau of the Athletics are for three days.

Settling of the Boudreau situation was delayed because a study is being made of the club's 1980 statistics, Greenberg explained.

The black-haired Boudreau completed his ninth term as captain of the Indians this year and the two-year contract he signed with former president Bill Veeck has expired.

Some front office dissatisfaction was expressed at the team's drop from a pennant contender to fourth place, but the blame as yet has not been laid at Boudreau's door.

The few optimistic aspects of the 1980 Cleveland club were Bob Feller's 21 victories and rookie Al Rosen's 37 home runs.

On the club's side was the frustration of the team's Boudreau-Jordan double play combination and the general ineffectiveness of the relief pitchers.

Flyers Away Today

Western Canada Hockey League's leading Edmonton Flyers are scheduled to leave today for Regina where they will be guests of the Regina-Patsy team tomorrow.

Flyers then journey to Saskatoon for a game with Quakers on Thursday night. They will play their third game in as many nights when they take on Quakers here Friday.

All members of the team, with the exception of defenseman Max Colville, will make the trip. Colville will sit out the Saskatoon home trip because of a groin injury and will be out for a week.

High scoring Steve Wattie is expected to see action in Regina. Earlier it was feared the bustling winger would sit out a few games because of an injury he suffered when Flyers downed Caps 9-2 at the Gardens.

FAN FARE

As a kind of "unintended Quaker" column, we submit these few observations on Saturday's Western game as seen through Winnipeg glasses—good glasses.

The hunch we had to dig out the "Z" must have been inspired, and while trudging around the far-flung park of Kluge's stadium, we looked for the elusive letter "Z". We thanked the gods for their tip-off.

It was clear that the seats ("Z"s) were taken by Manager Scott Kennedy of the Bombers had been invited by Manager (B) O'Leary to attend on Friday to take care of the Winnipeg game (B) O'Leary said $4.00 a pop.

However, listening to the comments of the Bomber executive tenants of the stadium—"Z" we can hear the "Z" executive that they apply for their allocation at Winnipeg next season, Manager Kennedy is going to be fresh out of the stadium if they're lucky, the Kananis fans will listen to the loudspeakers tell them of the man's career from his days in the Saskatchewan yard—both sides and the final California Stadium—McDonald's.

Rickey Takes Cellar Suite With Wealthy Pirates

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Branch Rickey—baseball's master maker of pennant teams—yesterday took command of the National League's last-place Pittsburgh Pirates.

The bulky, broad-diamond mogul was named executive president and general manager of the gold-plated Pirates. The contract will run five years with a clause allowing a possible five-year extension.

Neither Rickey nor Pirate president John Galbreath disclosed financial terms.

Galbreath announced the Rickey deal at a press conference in the Pirates Field offices of the Pirates. A beaming Rickey shrugged off most questions about his plans for the Pirates with the statement, "I don't know yet."

Rickey, who coached Rickey, also joined the Pittsburgh club.

Rickey, who developed pennant winners first for St. Louis-Carroll, then for the Pirates, was named executive president and general manager of the Pirates.

He sold his big block of Brooklyn stock.

The Pirates wound up in the 1980 cellar, four years after a well-financed syndicate headed by Pirates' majority owner, John Galbreath, bought the club.

The owners also included Galbreath, Thomas P. Johnson, Pittsburgh lawyer who is secretary-treasurer of the club, and cronies.

Esks Will Kick Points In Cramped Bomber Park

By Dick Heddes

Edmonton Eskimos will kick the ball for points instead of shooting the works with a pass-and-play game when they engage Winnipeg Blue Bombers next Saturday afternoon.

That will form a portion of coach Annis Stukus' plan of operation when the Edmonton team enters the ancient, crowded stadium for the second match in the best-of-three Western Football Conference final.

Eskimos held a one-game margin on the round, a product of their skilful 31-17 triumph at Clarke Stadium last Saturday night.

And you have his word for it that anytime Eskimos get close Saturday, they'll be going for three points.

In addition, the fine-tuning Ken Stukus will likely see considerable service in looking for single points.

It is taken for granted that Winnipeg, playing in the cramped confines of the 7,000-seat stadium, will kick at every opportunity. For in Indian Jack Jacobs the Bombers' star kicker, and Joe Aquilino, an old pro from Denver, won the conference scoring title mainly on the strength of field goals.

Observe: Stukus' plan is to use the regulation 110-yard gridiron, is surrounded by a wall which gives claustrophobia to those in the stands.

General, 21-year-old Almond doesn't talk much. He lets the other fellow do the talking.

Mitchell, also 21, is talkative. The large-framed, heavy-set declared himself the "controlled killer type."

Quarterback Lindy Berry was absent from last night's workout because of an earlier session with his dentist, but the versatile Texas wideback took this evening.

In the Saturday scuffling half-back Don Simon crouched up the Edmonton defense.

Only Eskimo defender all-star Almond, who is a former CFL star, was seen to have a hand in the game.

Sam Lewin, who has severely torn ligaments in his ankle, Edmonton and Montreal All-stars both threw forward passes off a blocked kicking game, thus creating a situation not specifically covered in the rule book.

Edmonton's (31st) forward pass is in charge of the referees in the Big Four, ruled that "in the case of a blocked kick that is recovered by the kicker's side, a forward pass cannot be legally thrown off the play."

In the Edmonton game, Annis Stukus recovered his own blocked kick, but he was ruled down pass to Morris Blair. It was disallowed by referee Howie Milne.

OIL KINGS SIGN FOUR FORWARDS

Manager Ernie Smallan announced the signing of four more players to the roster of the Oil Kings junior hockey team. This brings to 11 the number signed to date.

Signing contracts yesterday were Don Fraser and Bill Hodgson, both with Canadians last year; former Maple Leaf forward Mike Kinsawich and Otto Letourneau of Monroville.

All, with the exception of Hodgson, are 18 years old and are wingers. Hodgson is 19.

Smallan revealed that the exhibition game with Saskatoon Junior Quakers scheduled for Thursday night was cancelled because of the interest in Edmonton Eskimo football team.

Crosby Becomes Local Stars

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 7.—(AP)—A telephone call summoned Branch Rickey away from the press conference at which he was presented the new boss of Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday.

When he returned, Rickey said: "That was a guy on the coast—followed me around. He's a single."

"I told him I had a job for him if he'd quit his work out here and go to work full time for me. He said 'oh—starting Monday.'"

"So we have a new scout—Bing Crosby."

Crosby is part owner and vice-president of the Pirates.

LETHBRIDGE, Nov. 7.—Edmonton hockey products are up with the leaders in the Western Canada Junior Hockey League scoring race according to latest official figures.

Open Letter to . . .

Jack Grogan, president Western Football Conference, Calgary: It's high time that you, as head of the Western conference, issued a circular to team presidents, managers, coaches and others in authority, stressing that newspapermen and photographers are important to the success of such a spectacularly high-priced promotion as football.

Too often, this past season, after a Conference game, it was as much as a newspaperman or photographer's life was worth to go near the dressing quarters of the losing team, particularly.

Just Saturday night, for instance, following Eskimos' 17-16 win over Winnipeg Blue Bombers, dressing room of the vanquished Bombers was barred to newspapermen, with the possible exception of Maurice Smith, of the Winnipeg Free Press.

Somehow Mr. Smith (he may own shares in the club) successfully ran the gamut.

At least he was observed, on those occasions when Bombers' manager "Scotty" Kennedy opened the door two to three inches, scribbling notes and otherwise being treated like a newspaperman who it was recognized, was trying to do a job.

In the meantime Edmonton scribes, along with Tony (Winnipeg Tribune) Allen, cooled their heels in the runway outside.

Finally the ultra-cautious Kennedy opened the door a full six inches, stuck his head out again, after a searching scrutiny of the runway and its occupants, permitted coach "Butch" Larson to leave the dressing room.

In fairness to Mr. Kennedy, a noted horseman, it should be admitted that he did not insist that the scribes submit to the test for hoof and mouth disease before being allowed to talk to the Bomber mentor.

Once on the outside Mr. Larson proved amiable, even if he did seem slightly bored with such a silly procedure as having to answer questions about the late—and in the case of Bombers—lamented football game.

Earlier, Mr. Grogan, Bulletin photographer Danny Scott, having somehow crashed the Winnipeg room, was given a very rough time of it by quarterback "Indian" Jack Jacobs.

It's possible that Jacobs misunderstood Scott's intentions, that he didn't recognize the camera he carried for what it was.

For several seasons previous to this one Jacobs played with the rundown Green Bay Packers, in the National Professional Football league. No doubt it's been quite awhile since anyone wanted to take his picture. The man is probably out of practice for this sort of thing.

If, Mr. Grogan, you issue a directive aimed at eliminating such corny, bush-league tactics, you might point out that team executives in all four cities ask for, and get, from press and radio considerable help in the matter of promoting vital season ticket sales, membership in Touch Down clubs and the like.

Day by day publicity also adds up to a lot more ink and expensive newspaper in the course of a season.

Mind, some of these executives say they don't need this publicity—until you stop giving it to them. Then they're quick to howl bloody murder.

It adds up to this: publicity helps raise the money to pay coaches, managers and players. Need it do more to justify a courteous reception in team dressing rooms for those who pound it out on the typewriters?

Here in Edmonton, Mr. Grogan, there's a very firm and mutually worthwhile liaison between press, radio and those who operate teams in the various fields of sport.

And if there isn't always perfect agreement on the form this liaison is to take, at least managers and coaches expect to be "harried" by the press following a game.

Why not in Calgary, Regina and Winnipeg Mr. Grogan? They're pretty big cities, too.

THE CURLING HOUSE

BY BILLY ROSE

Scores Detailed For Beginners

(This is the second in a series of articles on curling, written especially for the Bulletin by famed curler Billy Rose, former Canadian champion, from Sedgewick.)

Briefly speaking, curling is a game of skill played on ice, where by a team, or "rink," comprised of four curlers, and playing against another rink, endeavor to throw heavy granite stones, called curling rocks, closer to a given point.

(I would like you to refer to the diagram and familiarize yourself with the main features and measurements.)

The game is played on a long narrow sheet of ice and the point of aim is called the button. The diagram shows the "house" and you will note the button is surrounded by circles two feet apart and the house is twelve feet across. A rock must be in the house or hitting the outside circle to qualify for a count.

Since a house is marked out at each end of the ice all rocks are played back to the house at the starting end. A game usually consists of twelve ends with an extra end being played in case of a tie. Each player throws two rocks and alternates with his opposition. The team having rocks closer to the centre of the house than their opponents, counts one point for each. Only those rocks closer than the nearest opposition rock are counted. One opposition rock can, therefore, nullify several potential scores by being closer to the centre.

For example, one side may have four rocks in the house, one on the button and the others several feet from it. The opposition has only one rock in the house but quite near the button. One point goes to the rock on the button and the opposition stone nullifies the three other rocks.

This explanation will sound superfluous to many but I know of beginners who have played a good part of the season without knowing how the count was made.

RINK PERSONNEL

A team is composed of four players: lead, second, third and skip. The skip directs the play and throws last rocks which usually decide the score at each end. Rocks are paired and prominently marked, and each player uses the stone pair throughout the game. To start the game, a rock is delivered by the lead as decided by the toss of a coin.

Succeeding ends are started by the lead man of the rink making a score at the end and previously completed. Obviously, the second, third and skip follow in that order and the skip throwing last rock is generally considered in a better position to count.

EQUIPMENT FOR CURLING

Now we have the lead man equipped with a pair of granite stones with handles attached. He stands on a very slippery ice surface and will find rubber, or rubber-soled shoes, essential to his remaining upright. Slips easily happen every season and one cannot be too particular about one's footwear.

(By the way, ladies, although I am using "he" and "his" in these paragraphs, they are intended to apply equally to you. Each year sees an increase in the number of lady curlers, who bid fair to come as expert as the men.)

Gloves or mitts are useful for this cold game, and a curl broom is also a must. Considerable space, (all) devoted to the "broom" when we get to the more controversial points of the game.

The lead goes to the back, a starting point and gives his foot a purchase on something solid so that heavy rock may be lifted and thrown.

A right-handed thrower places his foot in the back—a recessed footprint in the ice—so that the rock is dead centre of the width of the curling ice. Throwing from the left-handed players' back would place a right-hand thrower's rock at least 12 inches wide of the centre line and is illegal.

The rock is raised and thrown the length of ice to come to rest at or near a specified location. Since this action is the most important part of curling I intend to devote several paragraphs to "How to Throw a Curling Rock."

'Peg Scribes Confident Bombers Will Whip Esks

WINNIPEG, Nov. 7.—(CP)—There is no joy in Winnipeg—the mighty Bombers had struck out.

Following Bombers' 17-16 defeat by Eskimos at Edmonton last Saturday, Winnipeg sports scribes pounded out yards of copy as to why Bombers should n't have lost.

Both sports editors—Tony (Tribune) Allen and Maurice (Free Press) Smith—however, are confident Bombers can take the next two games of the best-of-three western football final.

"AW NUTS"

Says Allan in his column "One Man's Opinion": "We are sorely tempted to make this short and snappy—something like: 'Aw nuts, Bombers will slaughter 'em next Saturday.'"

"They will, too."

"However, before you bring out the crying towels, we will go on record as saying we don't feel the Bombers have much of an excuse to offer for dropping that one."

"They shouldn't beat the Bombers, but they did it Saturday—and neck and pushed, causing Casey to drop the ball."

"For some reason, official Paul Dojcek ruled Casey had interfered with Peyer. How this could be possible under the circumstances, we'll never be able to figure out. Anyway, Edmonton was given the ball on their 50 and Bombers never did get out of trouble after that."

The other mistake, Smith claims, came on the game-winning touchdown when, despite the fact that one official was right on top of the play, he failed to see a nice little piece of shoving by Rollie Prather on Jack Jacobs who was covering him up.

Smith says Jacobs was hacking up in front of Prather in the end zone, and it seemed pretty certain he would intercept the ball. However, at the last minute, Prather gave Jacobs a shove and then grabbed the ball for the touchdown.

Trustees Open Up On County Act

Three Officials Start Attack At Three-Day Convention

Alberta school trustees today began a barrage of criticism against the government's contentious County Act.

Nearly 300 trustees are meeting at Victoria Composite high school.

"The County Act... will put the administration of schools in a very secondary position and will be detrimental to the welfare of the school children," Bishop Henegh, president of the Association, said in his address this morning.

"It is very doubtful if the County Act... can be classed as a progressive step. Public opinion in all parts of the province seem to be opposed to this form of government, especially with respect to the proposed methods of school administration," said A. G. Andrews, Edmonton secretary, treasurer of the Association.

The County Act, which would place the administration of school, hospital and municipal districts under a single authority, is the subject of several resolutions to be considered by the trustees.

On Wednesday, convention delegates will hear the Association's legal counsel, S. Bruce Smith, K.C., discuss the legal aspects of the contentious act which, though passed at the last Alberta's legislative session, has not yet been implemented.

Also under criticism this morning was the Alberta government's payment of school grants.

"The increase of $85,000 in government grants in aid of elementary and high school education in 1959 was disappointing especially so when a total revenue for the province for 1959 of $75,000,000 was estimated," Mr. Andrews said.

Mr. Henegh reported that the government's School, Borrowing Assistance Act, by which the government makes a direct capital grant of 12½ per cent to the cost of new buildings and additions which are provided for by borrowing, has a "satisfactory nature."

"In order to receive these capital grants, boards must go into debt for much larger amounts, those boards which would like to get along without borrowing and could do so with a little aid, get no help whatsoever," Mr. Henegh said.

Premier E. C. Manning addressed the trustees in the morning session of the convention today, urging them to slow leadership in "making the welfare of all the concern of the individual group."

17 Persons Die In Attack

GUATEMALA, Guatemala, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Seventeen persons were killed as troops beat off an armed assault Sunday on a key military base near the capital. The government disclosed last night. Seven others were wounded.

The County Act... because law, much to the surprise and consternation of your executive. This piece of legislation will, if implemented, have a revolutionary effect on the present form of school administration.

St. Arthur A. Stone, Red Deer, declared in his report of the executive of the Association.

"It is very doubtful if the County Act... can be classed as a progressive step. Public opinion in all parts of the province seem to be opposed to this form of government, especially with respect to the proposed methods of school administration," said A. G. ## BLONDE BANDIT HUNTED FOR COAST HOLDUP

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 7.—Police are hunting for a "blonde woman bandit" wearing personality glasses, who led a gang of two men to rob Antonio Forster, a Vancouver resident.

Forester told police the two men held him on a deserted street, while the blonde took $7 from his wallet.

He said the "blonde bandit" was about 30, and had long blonde hair.

on the TOWN....

By Jack DeLong

Still Kicking

This little duddy is dedicated to Indian Jack Jacobs of Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Hi little duddy,
Too long in the huddle,
Jack can't kick over the moon,
The few they all laughed,
For the time was so short
And the Ede were the merry quite soon.

The foregoing was published under poetic license 17-16.

Even if Eskimos are the talk and toast of our town we must not forget the gallant boys who are crashing the line out Korea way.

I've got a couple of messages today. First one is from Mrs. Agnes O'Leary to her son Frank about HMCS Cayuga, as follows: Hello Frank. Sure hope you get home soon. It will be a lonesome Christmas this year without you. Best love from Mom and Larry.

Second is from Kenneth Nelson to cook C. G. Nelson on HMCS Cayuga from Dad, Mother, Ken and the rest. Also from the Nelsons to Ian Tainish and Pete Kuchel beloved aboard the Cayuga.

Orchid for a motorman item. To driver of bus No. 124 for stopping at 105 street and 82 avenue at 2:05 p.m. Saturday and assisting two blind bowlers across street to bowling alley.

Wasn't this nice of the kids? Edmonton's brand new alderman, Duncan Innes was presented with a new hat by students over at Strathcona high school. Alld Innes is principal of the school. Let's hope the hat never gets too tight.

Mayor Sidney Parsons has a new tag on his car. It reads: "Edmonton Parking Meter Permit No. 472. This sticker to be employed for free parking when TRUCK DRIVER is employed on official business in immediate vicinity."

Now we think it fine and necessary, too, for His Worship to park his car without feeding the kitty every few minutes. But other people who use their cars all day long in the centre of town are told by city officials that parking meter permits are issued for TRUCKS ONLY. I'm informed several aldermen are now demanding the same deal.

Remember the little story I ran last week about the unfortunate oilworker, who needed a home for his wife and three children? Well, I'm tickled to death to tell you he's all fixed up. One of those kindhearted and anonymous Edmonton citizens of whom there are too few, has come through in the emergency.

He read our little piece in On The Town and went into action. Here's a whole armful of orchids that go along with a million thanks. I think that man has cast his brand upon the waters.

Saddest man being in our town today: Naturally it's Claude Finlay of the Mac hotel. He missed that terrific football game Saturday because of business.

An understanding goodnight to all and especially to people who are still dizzy about that football game last Saturday.

10 Alberta Boys, Girls Prepare for Trip East

THICK JUICY STEAKS ARE ON THE WAY OUT

The thick, juicy steak may have to go. Animal science researchers in the United States are warning that in order to satisfy the appetites of steak buyers, ranchers may be progressively fattening their cows to a point where they cannot have calves. Selective breeding for heavier cattle is resulting in a breed of cows with so much thyroid glands, the scientists say.

BLUENOSE BEAN FEAST

BLUENOSEERS of blue on deck last night for real old down-east bean feed. Hungry crew of 243 from shore of Petticoat to tickles of Newfoundland, mustered at Masonic Temple for banquet. Highlight was presentation of birthday cakes to five members of Maritimers' Association celebrating birthdays. Banquet was left too right, W. S. Ayre, G. Roberts, A. M. Boutillier, Mrs. J. H. Brown and Mrs. V. V. Noble.

Stone asking that inquiries be made regarding purchase of land for a public park and playground in the village.

TAX BYLAW
Village secretary W. F. Broadstreet was asked to write the council solicitor for proper procedure toward establishing a general frontage tax bylaw in the village. It is expected that this bylaw will be put to a vote of council some time before the town election, slated for next March. Jasper Place will officially become a town on Nov. 1.

Provincial government will be approached immediately regarding the unsatisfactory drainage conditions on 134 street, north of Stony Plain road, council stated. Twenty-seven cases of theft and two cases of breaking and entering took place in the village during October, council stated.

'First Aider' In Every Community Board's Aim

The statistics of accidents in Alberta's lumbering industry were made public by Workmen's Compensation Board today—as grim emphasis to the board's three-year-old campaign to blanket the province with safety and first aid instructors.

The "unfavorable accident experience" in the first 6 months of 1959 showed ten workers fatally injured, 77 permanently disabled and 1,229 on compensation for a total of 36,337 days. An additional 479 required medical attention, the board's report showed.

CLAIMS COST
Cost of the claims by employers in the industry through the board amounted to over $600,000.

The manpower-loss represented in the 36,337 compensation days amounted to five months' time for 300 men—enough to keep a major sawmill and logging camp operating for the five-month period.

The accident picture was painted as the Compensation Board announced the 200th person had passed through the first aid and safety instructor classes it inaugurated in 1946. The 200 mark was reached when it attended a case in Edmonton.

WCN officials said the total for this year was 135, with 61 graduating from an April class. They said the department's aim was to place a qualified first aid man, or woman, in every lumber camp and every isolated community in Alberta within a five-year period.

Rail Employee Hurt In Fall

A CNR yard employee received minor injuries Monday night when he fell from a moving boxcar, near 102 street and 106 avenue, just east of McDonald's Consolidated. He is Cecil Tapping, 12625-125 street who fell from the car at 8:50. He was conveyed to Royal Alex Hospital by City Ambulance, where his condition is "good".

BIG CAMPUS MYSTERY

The hammer and sickle mystery is puzzling the University of Alberta campus. The night of the civic election last week, the Red banner was displayed in front of the education building. It is the second year this has happened—both times on the night of the elections.

Theories vary as to the story behind the "showing the flag" incidents. Some believe it is the work of a practical joker, others a crank, others that it was put up by overzealous young Marxists.

The Communist banner last year was hoisted on the education faculty flagstaff. This year it was dropped over the hedge in front of the building.

It is believed to have been put out the evening of the election. It was whisked away the following morning about 10 a.m. by an unknown group of young men who took it up in a car, cyclists believe.

POLICE SEEK MAN WHO GAVE BOY $100 BILL

CALGARY, Nov. 7.—(UPI)—Calgary police are trying to trace an open-handed gentleman to ask him who gave away a $100 bill.

Police report that on Saturday, a middle-aged man, badly in need of a shave, stopped 14-year-old Donald Kruse and handed him a $100 bill with the words: "Give $50 to your mother and keep $50 yourself."

Young Kruse told his mother, who sent him to the police.

The meeting was also informed that a bylaw was being framed prohibiting parking on Boyle street and other playgrounds in the city.

The report was a development of the city's communication to the city council protesting the "endangering of lives and property" by persons using playgrounds as free parking lots.

300 Expected To Attend CCF Convention

Provincial CCF leader James H. Hoper said today "scores of resolutions" have been received for consideration by the CCF provincial convention here Nov. 16 and 17.

About 300 delegates and visitors are expected to attend the convention at the Masonic Temple here. Guest speaker at the convention's public meeting Nov. 17 will be Prof. Frank Smith of Montreal.

Prof. Smith is a well-known and former national chairman of the CCF party.

Pipeline Pumps Start Operating

The Inter-provincial Pipe Line Co. announced here that four big pumps started operations yesterday at the company's Edmonton station.

Officials said the pumps, operating on a shutdown basis, appeared to be running smoothly. They will take the place of temporary units which have been operating since the line opened to Regina last month.

A staff member of the education faculty denied any knowledge of the incident. Whatever the explanation, university authorities are not worried that any plot is hatching to overthrow the government by force.

Bricklayers Opposing Block Layers

In what amounts to defiance of their international union headquarters, the bricklayers of Edmonton are refusing to admit the cement block layers of Edmonton into their ranks.

Information disclosed at last night's Trades and Labor Council meeting here showed that the members of Bricklayers' Masons' Tilers, Terrazzo Workers Union, Local No. 1, Edmonton (IATL) have consistently refused to work with the cement block layers.

The Trades and Labor Council was informed last night that John McLeod, Canadian vice-president for the Bricklayers' International, had instructed Local No. 1 to admit the cement block-layers to its ranks "where they belong."

Spokesmen at the meeting said the Building and Construction Trades Council here had refused to endorse the stand of the bricklayers and accused them of threatening to refuse to work on construction jobs where concrete was involved.

"If bricklayers of this city think they can unionize concrete workers they're mistaken," the spokesman representative for the Bricklayers' International in Edmonton's Mayor Sid Parsons.

LABOR BRIEFS

Football Fever Invades Trades, Labor Meeting
Football fever hit the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council at its regular meeting last night.

Delegates agreed to vote a telegram to the Eskimos on the eve of next Saturday's game in Winnipeg wishing the team success in its quest for the Western Football Championship.

Delegates at the TLM meeting expressed dissatisfaction with recent debate by Stanley Martin of civic centre project. Secretary Herbert G. Turner was instructed to contact civic authorities to get an explanation on the fact that property owners were unable to vote on the project "despite the fact it will be a city-by-city bylaw."

Council executive broke an unwritten rule by asking delegates to remain "on time" at the meeting. The show of moving picture featuring Greyhound bus trip across the continent.

'Things To Make' Top Bea's Christmas List

By Bea Thrifty

Well, after a weekend of worrying over Christmas lists I feel as fatigued as a politician planning a national campaign.

Not counting sub-headings 'in such, I've wound up with 15 separate lists of "possibles and probables" starting with... things to make, things to bake, tree and house decorations and working through toys for boy-children to suitable something for grandmothers and grandfathers.

Obviously we've all have to get right smack down to business.

And since making things takes the greatest effort, strain, time planning... let's have a whiff at the "Things to make" Christmas list.

Fine and thrifty plan is to make a tentative list of "hopefuls" for your list of "musts" and then run a tour of the shops to see what's what in the way of remnants.

And of course don't overlook your grab-bag of material scraps.

Remember the pretty brocade left-over from daughter's last formal frock? Well surprise her and make a tiny be-sequined bag of the scraps. A drawing-type is simple and sweet with a gold or silver cord strap.

Little clutch-in-hand pouch styles are favorites too. You may buy an elegant be-jewelled, gold or silver clasp to add finishing elegance.

Linen them with satin or taffeta or silk... or even cotton and daughter dear has a special Christmas pretty.

Plaid flannelette nightshirt... in long or shortie fashion... it's a teen-to-twenty favorite for girls. Same in seersucker, flower-sprigged rayon or jersey is a pleaser if daughter deigns to smile upon cozy flannelette.

Newie in nocturnal wear is a shortie housecoat which doubles as a "brunch-coat." They're neater, trimmer, do nicely over lounging pajamas or sleep-time attire... and of course don't take as much material.

Simple patterns for the shortie housecoats are available for materials ranging from satins and taffetas to tailored cottons.

With fashion favoring odd belts, accessories, midlay-of-a-million-ideas knows what a bit of imagination and a few yards of multi-colored ribbon will do.

Special medal-like belt clasp, silk-braid frops, plain silver or gold, wide, wide buckles, numerous metallic cord fasteners are available to help your ingenious ideas.

And don't forget felt, velvet, braided fabric... for the belt business.

Accessory-wise gift-givers realize the fashion fashion advantages of matched accessories. And hat, bag and scarf sets are a supreme surprise gift from an ambitious friend.

Simple to make are the cloche, helmet, beret, or draped jersey toppers... of felt, corduroy, wool, velvet... even leopard fabric.

Check needlework books for patterns available.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Does Real Love Alter When Loved Ones Change

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Our English class has been given the following quotation

"Love is like a flower that grows in the heart of a man and a woman and it is not love which alters when the loved ones change, but it is love which is blind, deaf and dumb and a man and a woman who have become unlovable."

Of course, not only the poet but the philosopher holds to this optimistic theory about the indestructibility of love, but a great many everyday sort of people also pin their faith to it and exploit it for all it is worth.

They love that once they have captured our fancies and won our hearts, they will go on seeing them as diamonds, no matter how they deteriorate and what misadventure they become and that no matter how they treat us we will continue to adore them.

ANSWER: Quite the contrary of Mr. Shakespeare's, I think that love is bound to change if its object changes, and that one would have to be blind, deaf and dumb and a man and a woman who have become unlovable.

Adult Behaviour Dictated in Book Written by Child

BERKELEY, Calif.—(AP)—Many a youngster has complained about grownups, but few ever did anything about it until Jill Oswald came along.

At the age of 10, this neat, brown-haired girl amazed her mother by scribbling, unspooked, child-eyes of her elders.

Now, two years later, Jill, who lives in a modest but comfortable apartment with her mother, Mrs. Alice Oswald, is a budding writer.

Titled "A Handy Guide to Grownups," it is a collection of her opinions on what makes grown-ups tick and how kids can get along with them.

"When she was annoyed, she'd write something. One day she wrote 'After all, they can call their friends back after you have to be in bed. Some of the ways to bother them are: Going upstairs and calling them, starting downstairs without any coat on...'"

"I think it perfectly fair to bother them as much as you have to."

Mary Harbison Pledges Vows

STELLER, Nov. 6.—Baskets of white and mauve chrysanthemums formed a pretty background for the wedding of Mary Kathleen Harbison to Keith Everett Selbert.

Mrs. E. Harbison and Mr. Selbert, the son of Mrs. A. Selbert of Steller.

The wedding took place at Steller United Church Nov. 2. Rev. W. Little performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother David Harbison, the bride wore an afternoon dress of white wool crepe with a feather hat. Her flowers were a fan shaped bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Jeanne Harbison, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid wore a dress of rose wool. She chose a matching hat and carried pink and yellow carnations.

Gordon Selbert was best man. Ushering the guests were Claude Selbert and Gordon Pearn.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. J. K. Brennan.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 60 guests was held at the Steller hotel. Ralph Yach provided the toast to the bride.

And from Mother and Dad a very special present, a bank book showing a birthday deposit. All your daughter has to do is see the people at your branch of the Commerce and fill in her signature card.

This is a happy gift because it makes a girl feel pleased and important. You'll know it's a good gift because with her own "Commerce" account your daughter will learn to plan for what she wants, save for what she gets.

For as a young girl becomes familiar with the forms and services of her bank so the becomes self-reliant in handling money and business transactions. And today, it is the money-wise girl who can appreciate her parents' planning and can look with understanding to her own future responsibilities.

If there's a birthday coming up at your house there's no nicer gift than a "Commerce" account.

Appellate Division Reverses Verdicts

Only One of Four Lower Court Decisions Is Upheld

The Appellate Division of the Alberta Supreme Court Monday reversed the verdicts in three of four cases brought before it.

The convictions of Kitchener Lloyd Winter, Edson, and Robbie Williams, Edmonton, were quashed. Winter had been sentenced to three months' imprisonment last March 23 for allegedly beating his wife and Williams was given 30 days on a charge of attempting to rob parking meters June 13 last.

In the case of George Werenka, Vilna farmer, the five-man Appellate bench reversed the decision of Chief Justice W. R. Howson in acquitting Werenka and fined him $150 or three months' hard labor for each of three counts of willful damage. The sentences are concurrent.

HOLD INTERESTS
Werenka was the founder of a rural telephone company and sold his interests to other members of the company. Then he literally "cut off" three of them by removing or severing their telephone lines.

Chief Justice Howson said he had "some doubt" that Werenka realized the company no longer belonged to him and that therefore he might not have acted wilfully.

But the Appellate bench accepted Prosecutor J. W. K. Shortreed's contention that Werenka had resigned his interests in the company and couldn't reasonably have thought it still belonged to him.

Prosecutor Shortreed said that four days after Werenka was acquitted last June, he connected his own line into the rural telephone company in defiance of the company's orders and that this action brought on the Crown's appeal.

BEYOND JURISDICTION
In the case of Winter, the Appellate bench held that the Magistrate who found the accused guilty assumed jurisdiction he didn't possess in hearing the case without

Guide Dies In Rescue
CHAMONIX, France, Nov. 7.—(CP)—A veteran French Alpine guide was killed yesterday while leading a French army rescue party up to the wreckage of a four-engine Constellation aircraft which crashed 48 persons.

A radio report from the 50-man patrol of expert mountain climbers said 40-year-old Rene Payot was swept into a crevasse by an avalanche and buried under 20 feet of snow. The troops roped together behind him dug Payot out, but were unable to revive him.

Army authorities suspended operations until further notice. E. Tier yesterday they announced their search mission was almost hopeless.

Maj. Pierre Pletard, chief of the French Army alpine school, said no one could have survived four nights of temperatures touching 48 degrees below zero, even if they had survived the crash last Friday.

He said his men's almost-hopeless mission now was to bring back the bodies of the 40 East Indian seamen and the plane's crew of eight. They crashed en route from Bombay to Britain on Mont Blanc, 15,781-foot giant of the Alps.

Belgian Arms Charge Laid
BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The Brussels go-pro-Communist newspaper La Cible accused Belgian arms manufacturers today of selling guns and bullets to Communist China "at a moment when America is being called upon to arm us."

The newspaper said it took most of its figures from the government's official monthly foreign trade bulletin. The bulletin shows Belgium exported $1,000,000 worth of automatic weapons, cartridges, and rifles from 1948 through February of 1950.

A government spokesman commented only that Belgium's arms manufacture is privately operated. Officials of the Belgian "Fabrique Nationale"—chief maker of small arms in the country—refused to comment.

Eden Pays Visit To Alexander
OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—(CP)—Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, deputy leader of the Conservative party in Britain, arrived here yesterday from Washington to pay a visit to his personal friend, the governor-general, Vincent Massey.

Today, Mr. Eden will receive an honorary degree from McGill University in Montreal. A spokesman at Government House said Mr. Eden's visit is purely a private one.

King Has Painful Lumbago Attack
LONDON, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The King has a painful but not serious attack of lumbago, a Buckingham Palace spokesman disclosed yesterday.

The ailment developed after he inspected an inspection of the Royal Rifle Corps in cold weather at Winchester last Friday.

Advisers to save time and space were largely employed in ancient Greek manuscript.

Survival of Democracy Is St. Laurent Theme

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—(BUP)—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent said last night there was "not the slightest likelihood" of a Communist overthrow of the government of either the United States or Canada.

He said in a speech prepared for delivery to the Canadian Exporters Association that the people generally were becoming suspicious of Communist propaganda methods, and were able to guard against them.

"So long as we can combine a high degree of personal and political freedom with a high standard of living and welfare for our people, there will be no effective scope for Communist propaganda," Mr. St. Laurent said.

The prime minister hailed the new United States-Canadian reciprocal arms purchasing agreement, most signed 10 days ago to revise the wartime Hyde Park agreement.

Hoffman Heads Ford Foundation
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Paul G. Hoffman today was elected president of the Ford Foundation at an annual salary of $75,000. Hoffman resigned last September as head of the Economic Co-operation Administration.

The 14-year-old foundation recently outlined a program for examination of human problems, including the problem of ending war. It has assets more than $25,000,000.

NAMUR, Belgium, Nov. 7.—(Reuters)—A miniature calf weighing only nine pounds has been born in a nearby farm. It was otherwise normal.

Crude Production

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(AP)—World production of crude petroleum during May 1949 was 23,000,000 barrels a day, the bureau of mines said yesterday. This was an increase of 11,000 barrels daily over the April figures.

Jets Collide

BIRLEFELD, Western Germany, Nov. 7.—(Reuters)—Two British Vampire jet fighters collided near here yesterday and one crashed, killing its pilot. The other plane flew on to an airbase.

The Soviet Union is celebrating the anniversary of the 1917 Bolshevik revolution.
